9:30am to 3:30pm at Christ Lutheran Church in Federal Way, WA

Keynote speaker is Reverend Chavaleh Forgey of Christ Lutheran who wants to hear “your story.”

Bio:

Passionate about Christ, community, and connections, Pastor Chavaleh Forgey (Christ Lutheran Federal Way) is a recently ordained Luther Seminary graduate with honors in Systematic Theology. She has written for Living Lutheran and for Word and World, Luther Seminary’s academic journal. She and husband Lim have recently returned to the Pacific Northwest after almost 20 years serving Christ Lutheran Visalia, California in music and adult ministries. They have three adult children and share their space in Gig Harbor with furry family members and much backyard wildlife.

Spirit and Story

How God’s work in our lives can inspire the next generation of believers

Theme Verse: Acts 2:17 “I will pour out my Spirit on all people.”

Theme Song: “I Love to Tell the Story”

You have a story to tell. God has been at work in and around you, and even if you feel ordinary, you are a follower of a God who is extraordinary. Come and re-awaken or ponder for the first time the wonder and awe of following Jesus, and learn how your story is not only a vital part of God’s ongoing drama but can be exactly what another person needs to hear to open up their imagination toward a more abundant life in Christ.

Workshops - discovering one’s story through creative experiences!

Bring

- Poster Boards – Bring a display of your group’s activities showing how your congregational unit encourages exploring “personal stories”.
- Money for offering – Individual, Unit
- Raffle Item – More information to follow

Cost - $25 includes morning refreshments, lunch and handouts
